LONDON, OCTOBER 17.

Extract of a letter from Stockholm, September 29.

"THE day before yeſterday arrived here the King, with his two brothers, the Dukes of Sudermanland and Oſtgothland from Eckholmſund. His Majeſty has held a chapter of the Orders, and created twenty-one knights of that of the ſword. The Count de Haſſenſtein, who refuſed to take the oath of allegiance at the caſtle, and delivered up his ſword, has had the honour of receiving his ſword again from his Majeſty's own hand, who brought it into his own room. His Majeſty has ſince received him very graciouſly, and would not accept of his diſmiſſion."

It had long been lamented by the true Ruſſians, that their Grand Duke, the ſon of the Empreſs, was of a moſt heavy inalert habit of body, and of very ſcanty intellects. To this was to be attributed the quiet acquieſcence of the Ruſſian nobility in the government of the mother. Some letters by the laſt mail (which confirm the report of a revolution at Peterſburgh) affirm, that a diſcovery, that this diſpoſition of body and mind in the Grand Duke was not the natural temperature of her, but wickedly entailed upon him for the moſt infamous of purpoſes, has precipitated and effected the depoſing of the Empreſs. The ſtory of the diſcovery runs thus: An inferior creature of the court, who was placed immediately about the perſon of the Grand Duke, had frequently the adminiſtring of certain drugs or potions to the young Prince, which were ſaid to be intended for the preſervation of his health. In a proceſs of time he could not but perceive, however, that theſe potions were always delivered to him to adminiſter when the Duke had arrived at a better period of health than uſual, and that a certain ſtate of inſenſibility always ſucceeded the taking of them; and that theſe alarming circumſtances were in a common courſe of ſucceſſion. Being, however, a creature of the reigning Empreſs, and fearful for his own ſafety if he divulged his diſcovery, he continued to act as uſual. But at laſt being taken ill, and on his death bed (for he is ſince dead) he took the means, in thoſe important moments of repentance, of having his obſervations and ſuſpicions made known to two or three of the firſt nobility, no favourers of the Empreſs; and the preſent revolution has been the conſequence, in order to emancipate the Grand Duke from theſe diabolical practices, and place him on the throne of his late unfortunate father.

Yeſterday there was but a thin levee at St. James's, and no council: His Majeſty at three o'clock returned to Kew. The Earl of Harcourt took leave of his Majeſty, and on Wedneſday next, ſets out on his Viceroyſhip of Ireland.

The preſent Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, in the courſe of laſt ſummer, made a ſurvey of all the forts in the north coaſt of that kingdom, ſeveral of which he found in a ruinous condition, and gave orders for their being repaired, and put in a proper ſtate of defence.

Letters from Smyrna, dated Auguſt 24, mention the death of the French conſul at Salonica, of the plague; and that they had received advice, by the maſter of a veſſel from Paros, of the death of Count Theodore Orlow, of a malignant fever.

It is reported, with ſome degree of confidence, that the Danes hourly expected an hoſtile irruption from the Swedes, which by this time it is feared has begun.

We are aſſured that Captain Jones is not only out of Newgate, but has received a free pardon. Our intelligence affirms, that he has appeared in the Park, playhouſe, and other public places (rather indeed incog. but not in any great degree ſo) and that ſeveral people of faſhion and conſequence have been ſeen to ſpeak to him as familiarly as if he had never been charged with the hateful crime for which he was convicted; and ſome perſons, of no little conſideration, have even permitted his viſits.

Extract of a letter from Dublin, dated October 10.

"The following very extraordinary occurrence happened at Atha during the laſt aſſizes, which bears evident marks of the interpoſition of divine providence in the detection of that moſt heinous of all crimes, murder. Some drunken ruffians began a quarrel in the ſtreets in view of the grand jury room. That active and ſpirited young nobleman Lord Kildare, the Sheriff, ſeeing the affray, ran down and ſeized two of the ringleaders, and gave them into cuſtody of the bailiffs, with a deſign to terrify them, and then ſet them at liberty. Upon the Sheriffs return into the jury room, and relating the matter to ſome gentlemen, he was aſked if he knew the names of the fellows? He ſaid the name of one of them was Dowling, and a taylor by trade; whereupon a man, who happened to be attending the grand jury upon ſome preſentment buſineſs, cried out, "O! my Lord, that is the man who murdered my brother four years ago." This exclamation brought on enquiry, when it immediately appeared that the accuſation was well grounded. The fellow is now in Naas goal to ſtand his trial next aſſizes. It is alſo remarkable that this man, after the ſuppoſed perpetration of the murder, fled from juſtice, and was but a few days returned into the kingdom previous to his being taken. Let this be a warning to the wicked, that God, though ſlow in his puniſhments, will ſurely inflict them unleſs they return from the evil of their ways."

Count Zachar Czernichew, is appointed governor of White Ruſſia.

OCTOBER 19.

Extract of a letter from Stockholm, October 1.

"All the troops which arrived from Finland after they had ſworn allegiance to his Majeſty and to the preſent form of government, received orders to return to that province.

"A new regiment is to be formed for the King's life guards, under the command of Colonel Guſtavſchild.

"It is almoſt impoſſible to believe what pains the King takes to bring Count Haſſenſtein on his ſide; his Majeſty went perſonally to the caſtle where the count is impriſoned, and preſented to him a ſword, and aſſured him of his royal grace, if he would ſign a new form of government; but whether the count was able to withſtand this ambitious temptation is ſtill unknown. However, the King gains daily the affections of the people by his mild conduct."

Extract of a letter from Copenhagen, October 8.

"Count Wedel Jerſberg ſet out from this city for his county in Norway; likewiſe the Counteſs Haxhauſen, attended by the Chamberlain, Baron Haxhauſen, went for Norway to regulate her eſtates there.

"Captain Boyer was diſpatched as courier to the court of Stockholm, from whence Baron Ancker, a counſellor of ſtate, has ſince then arrived as a courier to our court.

"Tranſports of cannon and gunpowder, &c. are daily going for Norway; all the equipages of the regiments are fitting out, and preparing to ſet off in a ſhort time.

"The engineer, Paymann, received orders to fortify the fortreſſes of this city. The marines, alſo, are preparing to be in a perfect ſtate, to ſet off at the firſt notice."

By advices from Vienna we learn, that the Emperor has ordered the army now under the command of General Haddick, in Poland, to go into winter quarters in that kingdom.

The Auſtrian army now in Poland conſiſts of 27 battalions, 70 ſquadrons, and two companies of artillery.

They write from Wilna in Poland, that ſeveral Ruſſian regiments were in march for Finland, to join the troops aſſembling there under the command of General Apraxin.

They write from Stockholm, that the King has ordered that part of the army which is near Finland, to march immediately and join General Sprengporten, on the borders of Norway.

When General Stutterheim arrived, on the 13th paſt, before Elbing, in Poliſh Pruſſia, he ſummoned the garriſon to ſurrender, in his Pruſſian Majeſty's name. The commanding officer having received no orders from his court to acknowledge the ſovereignty of his Pruſſian Majeſty, refuſed to obey; upon which the Pruſſians immediately pointed their cannon againſt the gate, called St. Mary's Gate, and for ſome time made an inceſſant fire upon it, both with artillery and ſmall arms. The garriſon, finding themſelves unable to ſuſtain the charge, ſubmitted, and were ſuffered to depart, under convoy of a Pruſſian commiſſary, who had orders to direct their march.

We are informed that the Honourable Colonel Fitzroy, brother to the Duke of Grafton, will be appointed Colonel of the Third regiment of Dragoons, vacant by the death of the late Earl of Albemarle.

Extract of a letter from Portſmouth, October 16.

"Yeſterday a Court of Enquiry was held on board the Centaur man of war in the harbour, on Lieutenant Duddleſton, on account of the Gaſpee ſchooner, which was loſt in America; when, on a full enquiry, the Lieutenant was acquitted with honour."

The Duke of Mecklenburgh Strelitz has recalled all his forces out of the ſervice of France, and Spain, in order to employ them at home. The commotions in the north are certainly the cauſe of this procedure.

The Earl of Albemarle lately married Miſs Miller, daughter of Sir John Miller, Bart. of Chicheſter in Suſſex, by whom his Lordſhip has left one ſon, about ſix months old, who ſucceeds him in title and eſtate.

It is ſaid that the government of the iſland of Jerſey, vacant by the death of the Earl of Albemarle, will be given to the Earl Waldegrave.

We hear that William Stewart, Eſq; Lieutenant-Governor of Dominica, is to be appointed Governor of Barbados, in the room of Dr. Spry, deceaſed.

Very diſagreeable news is ſaid to have been received on Friday night from the Continent. The Swedes have already begun to approach towards the frontiers of Norway, and the Emperor of Germany towards the Ruſſian dominions.

The Sheriffs, we hear, are determined not to allow council on the ſcrutiny, declaring, that as they are the only conſtitutional judges of the point in queſtion, they will ſuffer no judicial interference, unleſs the cauſe is removed to a tribunal of ſuperior authority.

On Monday the 21ſt of September laſt, about half after five in the morning, the lightning fell upon a farm houſe, called La Borde, about three leagues from Snellis, in the neighbourhood of Verberie, in France, the effect of which was ſo ſudden, that, though the lightning was accompanied with a heavy rain, it ſet fire to a barn, and two ricks of corn, that ſtood at ſome diſtance from it, and entirely conſumed them, notwithſtanding the aſſiſtance of more than 300 perſons, who aſſembled in order to extinguiſh the flames.

Letters from Languedoc bring likewiſe an account of a remarkable fall of rain, on the 9th of the ſame month in that province. It began about nine in the evening, and poured down in ſuch aſtoniſhing ſtreams, that in leſs than two hours it ſwelled the river Chaſſenac more than 18 feet above its uſual level, and overflowed the country for many miles in breadth. Its violence was ſuch, that nothing could withſtand it; it bore down houſes and barns, carried away cattle, tore trees up by the roots, and overſet mills, particularly that of La Tour, the moſt conſiderable in the province, and built with incredible ſtrength. The torrent was irreſiſtible. It blew up an arch of the famous bridge of Chambonas, built by the Romans, and by that means ſtopt for a while the communication between the neighbouring towns. One church was entirely ſtripped of its pews, altars, and even its holy veſſels, the ſtream having made a clear paſſage through its walls. The oldeſt man living never remembered to have ſeen ſo much deſolation in ſo ſhort a time, the rain entirely ceaſing about eleven the ſame evening.

The following may be depended upon as a fact: A poor man at Waterbeach in Cambridgeſhire, having two children, was very deſirous that they ſhould have the ſmall-pox, but being too ſtraitened in his circumſtances to employ a ſurgeon to inoculate them, formed a ſcheme, perhaps unheard of before, to do it himſelf; accordingly he came to Cambridge, and procured a ſmall quantity of matter, which he put the next morning between two pieces of bread and butter, and gave it to his children; the conſequence was, they received the infection, had the diſorder in a favourable way, and are now hearty and well.

As the Aldermen are reſolved to chooſe Townſend Lord Mayor, Mr. Wilkes will every year, till he is choſen, carry the election upon the poll, and thus keep up the flame in the city and in the nation. Thus is the miniſtry, through its own folly, doing as it has always done, the buſineſs of Mr. Wilkes.

Some gentlemen belonging to the Eaſt-India Company not in the directorſhip, have received orders to attend the privy council at St. James's on Wedneſday next.

Letters from Mequinez, dated Auguſt 18, ſay, that Mehemet Ben Adoubia, nephew to the Emperor of Morocco, who had the command of a body of Mooriſh horſe, had his head taken off by order of the Emperor for diſobeying his orders; and that the command is given to an Engliſh gentleman, who has reſided there ſome years, and is a great favourite of the Emperor's.

Whatever may be aſſerted to the contrary, it is talked of as a certainty at the weſt end of the town, that the premier's father will ſoon be honoured with a dukedom.

The Union of 90 guns, now at Plymouth, is ordered to be new docked and ſheathed immediately.

They write from Gibralter, that the Emperor of Morocco has demanded in the room of the uſual preſents that is made him, ſome braſs pieces of cannon, powder and ball, to the ſame value as the preſents annually ſent him; the letter further adds, that the cannon are to be of the ſame bore as thoſe that are uſed on board a 100 gun ſhip.

No leſs than ſix expreſſes were received in the courſe of laſt week from France, Portugal, Turin, Berlin, Stockholm, and yeſterday another expreſs was received from Warſaw, which makes it imagined that ſomething of great importance is on the carpet.

They write from Paris, that the Duke de Choiſeul, with his family, are preparing to ſet out for Liſbon, to ſpend a few months there, and afterwards to go to Madrid, having promiſed to ſpend a few weeks with Prince Maſſerano, late Ambaſſador at this court.

It was yeſterday reported, that the Weſt-India planters intend to ſue for a bill next ſeſſions, for an additional duty to be laid on the importation of Coffee from Turky and the Levant, in order to encourage the cultivation of Coffee in our American iſlands.

It was laſt night reported at the mercantile end of the town, that the natives of Madagaſcar had roſe, upon account of ſome ill uſage of the French, and cut off two factories they had eſtabliſhed on that iſland.

A perſon juſt arrived from Jamaica reports, that the cargo of a Dutch ſloop from Truxillo to Curacoa, taken by a Spaniſh guard-ſhip, and carried into Porto-Rico, conſiſted of cochineal, indico, logwood, and ſeveral cheſts of Mexico dollars. A ſufficient proof of the valuable return made by our rivals in the Spaniſh trade.

The Newark man of war of 74 guns at Chatham, is ordered round with all poſſible ſpeed. She is to be one of the ſhips deſtined for the relief of thoſe ſtationed in the Mediterranean.

The Peace and Plenty, Captain Shendry, from the Canaries, brings advice, that he fell in with four Spaniſh men of war the 26th ult. off the rock of Liſbon, bound as he ſuppoſes for the Eaſt-Indies.

The laſt letters from Senegal mention, that the French had dropped all their late ſchemes for encroaching on the African coaſt, and that trade was carried on in an amicable manner, the French confining themſelves to their own ſettlements.

Private letters from the Hague inform, that a treaty is on foot for granting to his Pruſſian Majeſty certain tracts of territory in the Eaſt Indies, towards extending the commerce of the new Aſiatick company lately eſtabliſhed at Embden.

They write from Copenhagen, that the court has juſt taken into pay ſix regiments of Heſſian troops.

It is again confidently aſſerted, that General Conway has given an intimation of reſigning his poſt of Lieutenant General of the Ordnance.

A very ſpirited memorial is now preparing in order to be ſent to the court of Portugal, relative to the recent complaints of the Engliſh merchants trading thither.

We learn from Peterſburgh, that the Empreſs, in conſequence of a war between Denmark and Sweden, muſt take part with the former, owing to a guarantee treaty between them.

Yeſterday the Counteſs of Huntingdon was at Tottenham court Chapel, with ſeven young Students, who were educated by her bounty, and are going to the College at Georgia.

Lately died at Edinburgh, Peter McDonald, a fiſherman, in the 109th year of his age, whoſe father lived to 116, and grandfather to the age of 107.

We hear that an Engliſh Barony will ſhortly be given to Sir George Macartney, as a reward for his many eſſential ſervices to government.

"My Lord, (ſaid a Nobleman on Tueſday, at a Miniſter's table) I begin to think that all oppoſition to Mr. Wilkes is uſeleſs, for heaven itſelf ſeems to ſecond the efforts of the independent part of the citizens." "Mr. Wilkes the favourite of heaven! (returned the Miniſter) I believe your Lordſhip is very ſingular in your opinion; may I be permitted to aſk on what it is founded?" "On what!—is it not plain to every obſerver, that ſince Mr. Wilkes became a citizen, Death has cried havock, and let looſe his dogs among the miniſterial Aldermen—they have ſprung one Bird even this week, and to tell you the truth, my Lord, I am not without my fears for the whole covey."

It is ſaid, with ſome degree of confidence, that the Duke of Grafton is quitting the Miniſtry, on a diſguſt he has taken againſt his old friend the premier—ſtrange that brothers in —— cannot agree.

It is ſomewhat remarkable, that very few of thoſe people who were ſo happy as to be ranked among the friends of the late renowned Duke of Cumberland, have been noticed with any degree of favour at Court; the late Earl of Albemarle, 'tis ſaid, did once account for this.

General Paoli, we are told, is preparing to leave this kingdom, upon ſome trifling buſineſs; but what it is, we have not been able to learn.

Yeſterday a wardmote was held at Girdlers Hall, for the election of an Alderman of the ward of Baſſiſhaw, in the room of John Bird, Eſq; deceaſed, when William Plomer, Eſq; an eminent oilman, at Aldgate, was unanimouſly elected.

It ſeems very extraordinary, that Perth and other places in Scotland ſhould compliment the French Ambaſſador (now on a tour in thoſe parts) with the freedom of their ſeveral bodies, when his Excellency is no ſubject (by birth or naturalization) to this crown, and cannot therefore be entitled to the privilege of a citizen in any of its cities or towns corporate.

Meſſrs. Fox and Foley were uncommonly ſucceſsful the late Newmarket meeting, having won between them, we are aſſured, more than 20,000l.

Mr. Charles Fox has refuſed 3000l. for his famous horſe Pantaloon.

'Tis ſaid that the Chevalier Stewart, commonly called the pretender, and his conſort, have uſually been in England incog. ſince their marriage, and in the capital itſelf. If this be true, the friends of the preſent eſtabliſhment ought to look ſharp about them, and every Engliſhman it is to be hoped are ſuch friends.

Yeſterday the Lords North and Rockford, ſet out of town for their reſpective country ſeats.

Extract of a letter from Dantzick.

"The manner in which the King of Pruſſia keeps this city blocked up, will oblige it ſoon to throw itſelf into his hands, if ſome other powers do not deliver us from his oppreſſion. There is no doubt but this was the object of the cuſtom houſes and poſt houſes which he has eſtabliſhed around us; and it is as little doubtful that we muſt of two evils chuſe the leaſt; ſince in our preſent condition we have neither liberty nor trade, we muſt, by becoming his ſubjects, preſerve the latter. Not content, however, with this and the other great acceſſions to his power and territories, he has ſeized upon Courland, to which he lays claim as univerſal heir to the Teutonick order. Thus ſtrengthened by ſuch an extenſive tract of populous, maritime, and trading country, he will ſoon be enabled to diſpute the ſovereignty of the Baltic. He longs to be another Peter the Great, and to gain victories by ſea as well as by land. It remains to be ſeen whether the other powers will not take umbrage; whether the jealouſy of Ruſſia will not be rouſed; whether ſhe will not be diſguſted at the loſs of her dictatorial authority in Courland, and of her influence in the reſt of Poland. Ruſſia, notwithſtanding her victories over the Turks, will ſoon find reaſon to rue that ſhe ever embarked in that war. Her exhauſted coffers and depopulated territories will be ill able to cope with the freſh and vigorous enemies which will ſtart up."

OCTOBER 30. Yeſterday at twelve o'clock, the Sheriffs and attendants came on the Huſtings, when Mr. Sheriff Oliver informed the Livery, that, "the Court of Aldermen were then met, and begged their patience till one o'clock;" at which time the Town Clerk came forward and declared, that the poll, after the niceſt enquiry, was in favour of the Aldermen Wilkes and Townſend; that the numbers on that ſcrutiny ſtood the ſame as at the concluſion of the poll, and that they were returned to the Court of Aldermen for their determination. At two o'clock the Lord Mayor came on the Huſtings, and the proper Officer declared to the Livery, that the Court had diſcovered a majority in favour of Alderman Townſend, and that they had made choice of him to be Lord Mayor for the year enſuing. When the declaration was made in favour of Alderman Townſend, there was great confuſion in the hall for ſome time, as the friends of that gentleman clapped and huzzaed, and thoſe of Alderman Wilkes hiſſed and hooted, which ſome time after ſubſided. Alderman Townſend being inveſted with the gold chain in the uſual manner, then came forward and addreſſed the Livery in the following words:

"Gentlemen, AFTER the repeated teſtimonies I have already given you of my zeal in the cauſe of liberty, I ſhould imagine that all profeſſions are unneceſſary on my part. I am this day elected your chief magiſtrate, and be aſſured I will continue firm and inflexible in the principles on which I have acted. Conſcious of my ſincerity, I wiſh only to poſſeſs the applauſe of honeſt men---I deſire no other reward---no other return than the eſteem and confidence of my fellow citizens."

After which Mr. Alderman Wilkes came forward, and addreſſed the Livery as follows:

"Gentlemen, and Brother Liverymen, AFTER the moſt unfair and ungrounded allegations, both againſt the juſtice of the poll and the honour of the ſheriffs, our adverſaries have been reduced to the neceſſity of abandoning a ſcrutiny, which was only demanded to create expence, and to diſturb the public peace. Upon the fulleſt evidence I am now warranted to declare, that if the ſcrutiny had been continued by them, a much greater majority than that declared by the ſheriffs at the cloſe of the poll, would have appeared at the finiſhing of the ſcrutiny, and many ſcenes of iniquity and corruption have been laid open to all mankind. The conſciouſneſs and dread of this was the true cauſe of the ſcrutiny being declined on the moſt falſe and injurious ſubterfuge.

"The Court of Aldermen, gentlemen, notwithſtanding the ſanction of your declared wiſh and approbation by the majority of your ſuffrages, have not thought proper to ratify your choice. I give the gentleman, who is the object of their choice, much joy. His forward zeal for the public ſervice---but I will not be his panegyriſt.

"I am happy, gentlemen, to be farther uſeful to you by humbly offering you, at all future times, the tender of my ſervices, in conjunction with any gentleman, whom you may chuſe hereafter, to raiſe to the dignity of your chief magiſtrate. I ſhall thus enjoy the ſatisfaction of veſting in the Livery of London the full and ſole power of electing their own Mayor, a privilege enjoyed by all other corporations, and which, in my opinion, they ought to have had at the firſt formation of the conſtitution of this city. On every occaſion, gentlemen, I ſhall be ready to obey your commands, and to convince you of my warm gratitude for your repeated favours."

When Mr. Wilkes had concluded his Addreſs to the Livery, Captain Allen advanced, and propoſed to the Livery, that Alderman Croſby ſhould be required to inform them what were become of their inſtructions to their repreſentatives. Alderman Croſby came forward, and informed them, that he had ſent copies of the inſtructions to the different members, but had received no anſwer. Captain Allen then made a motion that they ſhould be recorded, which was immediately ſeconded, and the motion was alſo made and ſeconded, that the Town Clerk do enter the ſame; upon which Sheriff Lewes advanced to complain to the Livery of the attempts of the Lord Mayor to interrupt the motion being made, but was prevented from proceeding by the Lord Mayor's breaking up the court. Much hiſſing enſued, and the cry of ſtop him! ſtop him! was unanimous through the hall. Alderman Townſend imagining the Lord Mayor was in danger of being inſulted, conducted him to his coach, declaring his abhorrence of the licentiouſneſs of ſome of the people, and calling repeatedly for the Sheriffs.

The Court of Aldermen are ſuppoſed to vote as follows: For Alderman Townſend; Ladbroke, Alſop, Glynn, Harley, Plumb, Stevenſon, Oliver, Sawbridge. For Alderman Wilkes; Aſgill, Bridgen, Turner, Croſby, Kirkman, Bull, Lewes. Did not vote; Lord Mayor, Shakeſpear, Wilkes, Townſend, Roſſeter, Kennet.

The Lord Mayor elect went to the Manſion-houſe in the ſtate coach with the preſent Lord Mayor; where he and Alderman Shakeſpear dined with his Lordſhip.

On Wedneſday there was a General Court of Proprietors of Eaſt-India ſtock, at their houſe in Leadenhall-ſtreet, for the purpoſe of receiving the report of the Directors, relative to the intended Superviſion to India. The Directors took their chairs at twelve o'clock, and after the clerk had read over the minutes of the laſt meeting, the Chairman deſired him to read the copy of a letter from Lord North, received by the Direction on Wedneſday; which he did, and was in ſubſtance, "That Government could not agree to lend them the loan they requeſted on their terms, as not thinking it for the intereſt of the company to accumulate their debts, which would be 1,200,000l. by next Auguſt, but that they were willing to do the Company every ſervice in their power, and deſired to have, as ſoon as convenient, ſuch papers as were neceſſary to inform them of the ſtate of the Company." After this letter was laid before the Proprietary, the buſineſs of the day came on, which was the Commiſſion of Superviſorſhip which the Directors had, agreeable to the orders of the laſt General Court but one, been commiſſioned to prepare. This being read, it contained in ſubſtance a general and unlimited power to nine perſons, ſix of whom were to be ſent out from hence, and the other three culled from the Governor and Council of Bengal, who were, in both military and civil capacities, to do as they liked, only being obliged to perform, from time to time, ſuch orders as ſhould be ſent them from Direction. The names of the perſons choſen to be recommended to the Proprietary, were then read, and are as follows: General Monckton, Mr. Wheeler, Mr. Laſcelles, Mr. Weir, Mr. Devayne, Mr. Cuming.

After this commiſſion was thus read, a debate aroſe about the nature of the commiſſion, as well as the perſons appointed to put it in execution. Mr. Ramſay objected to the commiſſion, as giving too unlimited an authority, and ſaid, five or ſix ſheets of paper, which the commiſſion contained, may be ſpared, by only the inſertion of the words "Gentlemen do in every reſpect as you like." Mr. Dempſter ſaid, he had many objections to make to the commiſſion, which he would make when it came properly before the Court, hoping this day would not determine any thing; he likewiſe objected againſt all the commiſſioners being culled from behind the bar, as in an important affair like this, perſons of the firſt conſequence, in every kind of knowledge, ſhould be ſolicited for this purpoſe. General Smith was of the ſame opinion. Mr. Creighton then got up, and after giving his opinion in a few words on the commiſſion and commiſſioners, which he by no means reliſhed, propoſed, that as the matter was of ſuch vaſt importance, "That the report of the Directors relative to this commiſſion ſhould be poſtponed till the next quarterly general court." However, this period was by ſome thought too diſtant, and his queſtion was afterwards amended to a fortnight; and at the ſame time another motion was made and ſeconded, "That a ſufficient number of printed copies may be immediately prepared to be given to ſuch proprietors as ſhould call for them, in order to inform them more fully on that day."

It is ſaid that the Ruſſian Ambaſſador at this Court has received letters of recal.

When Mr. Harley was going to ſcratch for Lord Mayor yeſterday, he called upon Mr. Wilkes, and informed him, that it had been declared that he had promiſed to ſcratch for him on the preſent election; he begged him therefore to ſay, if he had ever given him ſuch a promiſe; Mr. Wilkes declared he never had; when Mr. Harley told him he was then going to ſcratch againſt him, and that he never would give him a vote on any occaſion.

On Wedneſday the Honourable Admiral Keppel, brother of the late Earl of Albemarle, waited on his Majeſty at St. James's, and delivered up the ribband and George, enſigns of the Order of the Garter, with which his late brother was inveſted.

Extract of a letter from Vienna, October 11.

"Orders have been iſſued for the troops in Tranſylvania to march, without a moment's delay, for Walachia."

Extract of a letter from Warſaw, October 13.

"His Majeſty, our King, is hourly employed in receiving petitions from thoſe Poliſh gentlemen whoſe eſtates have been ſeized by the three United Powers. Theſe injured Polanders reſolutely declare they will loſe all their fortune, rather than ſwear allegiance to any foreign power."

The Recorder yeſterday made a genteel ſpeech in the Court of Aldermen, and reſigned his office; when the thanks of the Court of Aldermen were unanimouſly voted to Sir James Eyre, the late Recorder, "for his digilent, ſteady, able, and upright "diſcharge of that important office, no leſs in the Court of Al-"dermen, than in the general adminiſtration of juſtice."

At the ſame time a piece of plate, amounting to the value of 60l. (the ſum given for a piece of plate when Sir Thomas Adams was complimented on his reſignation of the Recorderſhip) was voted as a compliment to Sir James Eyre.

Sir James Eyre will not enter on the duties of his new office till he is called to the degree of a Serjeant at Law, which is an indiſpenſible formality on ſuch occaſions.

OCTOBER 31. By a gentleman lately arrived from Paris, we learn, that on the 23d of October, at one o'clock in the morning, the hotel of the Prince of Conti was ſurrounded by the officers of the Provoſt de l'Hotel, aſſiſted by a troop of Muſquetaires and Gendarmes de la Garde, in order to ſearch the ſame, under the authority of a Lettre de Cachet, which, after great oppoſition by the Prince's ſervants, was at laſt done, and the officers admitted. The people are yet to learn what was found in it; but it is ſuſpected that the printing of ſome pamphlets, which have lately made a great noiſe, was the object of their ſearch.

They write from Paris, that the affair of the Prince of Conti has ſpread an univerſal conſternation throughout that city. Several of the Princes of the Blood have ſhut up their palaces, and gone haſtily into the country. The ſame letters add, that the meaſures of government grow every day more oppreſſive, and that the poor people in all the interior provinces are ripe for a revolt.

The Captains of the Britiſh Navy now on half-pay, have unanimouſly agreed to apply to parliament for an increaſe of their pay, which at preſent is ſcarcely equal to the daily wages of a journeyman taylor, notwithſtanding the rank of theſe champions and ſupporters of the Britiſh naval empire is equal to that of a Colonel in the foot-ſervice. They have deviſed an admirable expedient, by which it will be found that their increaſe of half-pay will not be chargeable to the nation; for each Captain propoſes to give up and relinquiſh to government one ſhare of all the prizes and captures that may be made in time of war, in order to create an augmentation fund, the intereſt of which will moſt probably be ſufficient to anſwer all the purpoſes of that increaſed half-pay. This propoſal being ſo juſt and reaſonable in itſelf, it is generally imagined, the parliament will not raiſe any objections againſt it.

The news of Mr. Alderman Townſend being elected Lord Mayor, was received by Lord North on Thurſday ſoon after he left the drawing-room, on which he returned and made his Majeſty acquainted with it.

Yeſterday the City Remembrancer waited upon the Lord High Chancellor to acquaint him with Mr. Alderman Townſend's being elected Lord Mayor; when his Lordſhip was pleaſed to appoint Thurſday next, at two o'clock, to receive the Lord Mayor elect; after which an entertainment will be given at Mercers Hall.

The Rev. Mr. Sandiford, vicar of Chriſt Church, in Newgate-ſtreet, is, we hear, appointed Chaplain to the Lord Mayor elect. This is the fourth chaplainſhip of that gentleman.

Yeſterday the workmen began to build in Guildhall, and to make the proper preparations againſt next Lord Mayor's day; and, in order to get it finiſhed by the time, they are to work extra hours.

A patent is ordered to be made out, appointing Richard Stonehewer, Eſq; Auditor of his Majeſty's Revenue of Exciſe, in the room of John Fowle, Eſq; deceaſed.

Charles Lowndes, Eſq; ſon of Mr. Lowndes, late Secretary to the Treaſury, is to be appointed a Commiſſioner of Exciſe in the room of Mr. Stonehewer.

Dr. Richard Jebb is appointed a Phyſician Extraordinary to his Majeſty.

On Thurſday ------- Hill, Eſq; Barriſter at Law, of Lincoln's Inn, kiſſed his Majeſty's hand at St. James's, on being appointed King's Serjeant at Law.

From the firſt accounts of the depradations committed by the ſervants of the Eaſt-India Company at Bengal, &c. to the preſent time, is two years; yet nothing was done, or attempted to be done, to remedy theſe abuſes till the month of Auguſt laſt, when a certain perſon could carry on his Alley connections no further. Then the Proprietors were requeſted to do ſomething, tho' not till the previous diſpoſition of what was intended to be done was prepared inſide the bar, and carried by a majority of dependents without. On Thurſday laſt they were acquainted with the names of the Commiſſioners intended for the Superviſion, when inſtead of ſearching for men of military, commercial, literary abilities, they never ſtirred out of the Committee-room for a choice, but culled ſix of their own body, whoſe knowledge only conſiſts in particular departments of commerce, to put into execution one of the moſt important truſts perhaps ever delegated to any body of men. General Monckton, the only man of abilities amongſt them, has been ſo ſenſible of this, that he wrote a letter to the Direction on being choſen, (which letter was read at the General Court on Thurſday laſt) thanking them, in the politeſt manner, for their nomination of him to an office which put it in his power to do his country ſo much ſervice, but begged to be excuſed giving his final aſſent till he was acquainted with the names of his colleagues. The Proprietors, however, have it ſtill in their power, not only to put a negative on this job nomination, but appoint, of themſelves, ſuch perſons of eſtabliſhed abilities as will give them the greateſt ſecurity of having their buſineſs done properly.

On the election of the ſix Superviſors to be recommended by the Court of Directors to the Proprietary, Mr. Cuming and Mr. Langlois were both equal in number on the ballot, when it was agreed to return their names again into the balloting box, along with the other candidates, and the firſt of the two which came out ſhould be the ſucceſsful candidate. Mr. Cuming happening to be firſt drawn, his name was accordingly added to the other five.

Extract of a letter from the Hague, October 22.

"If a rupture ſhould happen ſoon between Great-Britain and Spain, the French will certainly join the latter agreeable to the family compact. In that caſe the Emperor has his eye towards the Netherlands, who will be aſſiſted by Pruſſia as well as England, to recover back that country. In caſe of conqueſt, Dunkirk and Calais will be ceded to the Engliſh. Theſe three great powers, with the aſſiſtance of the Dutch (for they had rather have the Emperor their neighbour than the French) will afterwards unite all their force to conquer Britanny for the King of Pruſſia, who will then become a maritime power. The Engliſh, from this manœuvre of the Emperor, King of Pruſſia, and the Dutch, will ſcarce have any thing elſe to do but to attack the Havana with all her force, and when reduced, keep it in the manner ſhe keeps Gibraltar. The Engliſh will likewiſe have in their power to aid the natives of Chili, who are a brave and valiant nation, and are now revolting to throw off the Spaniſh yoke, and thereby ſecure to themſelves St. Jago, the capital of Chili, and other provinces in the South Seas; for without ſome conqueſt in that ocean, Falkland's Iſland can be of no uſe to the Engliſh, which, on the other hand, were the Engliſh poſſeſſed of any ſtrong place or places in the South Seas, Falkland Iſland would then become a beneficial watering place for the fleet. Thus will fall the family compact, the bugbear (that uſed to frighten you all on the other ſide of the water) never diſturb Great-Britain more."

A letter received from Paris mentions, that an order is ſent to Breſt to provide ſufficient tranſports to embark 3000 land forces for the French Iſlands in the Weſt-Indies.

Yeſterday morning, about ten o'clock, a free pardon was ſent to Newgate for Captain Jones, and in the afternoon he was ſeen walking in the Mall near Buckingham-Houſe.

We hear from Liverpool, that Mr. Phillips, maſter of the docks there, has put up two lanterns, or rather lamps, on a flag-ſtaff on one of the moles in that harbour, for the more certain direction of ſhips arriving in the night. At the back of one of theſe lamps is a concave, circular plate of copper, making a very ſmall part of a ſphere, which reflects a light nearly approaching to the complexion of the Sun in a foggy morning. At the back of the other is a ſimilar plate of tin, which reflects a light as brilliant as that of Venus in her greateſt diſtance from the Moon. Thus a ſimple principle in the hands of this gentleman is very happily applied in the preſent inſtance, tho' but an eſſay; and may be applied to the effectual diſcrimination of every light in the univerſe, which, we hear, Mr. Phillips has in contemplation, an object well worthy of public attention and of public encouragement.

Mr. Alderman Townſend, our new City King, in his ſpeech on Thurſday, ſaid, "It has always been the height of my ambition to deſerve the confidence of honeſt men." The Monarch at St. James's likewiſe in his firſt declaration to the Privy Council, at Carlton-houſe, October 26, 1760, declared, "That he depended on the ſupport and aſſiſtance of every honeſt man. The King of Sweden likewiſe in June laſt declared to the Diet "I will call God, and all honeſt men, to witneſs to the ſincerity of my heart." Did ever a really modeſt woman talk of her virtue or innocence?

A jocular correſpondent hopes that the populace will now be happy, as Mr. Wilkes has paſſed the chair.

NOVEMBER 3. A Great Perſonage has expreſſed, in the warmeſt terms, his ſatisfaction that the choice of the Aldermen did not fall on Mr. Wilkes.

Extract of a letter from Peterſburgh, October 15.

"The report which has been circulated of the renewal of the armiſtice between the Ruſſians and Turks is moſt certainly true, as is the diſgrace of Count Gregory Orlow, though the account of his being put to death or baniſhed is not true. The Empreſs is not yet ſufficiently convinced, that the Count was too precipitate in breaking up the congreſs at Fockzany, and the arreſt only took place at the inſtance of ſome powerful Courts, who envyed his abilities, and the great influence he had over all the Miniſters of the Imperial Court. It is moſt certain that he did not go beyond his private orders, which, if he is proſecuted with rigour he threatens to make public, though his life may be a ſacrifice for his courage; and it is univerſally thought, that the Court will be happy to coincide with him, rather than expoſe to the face of Europe, inſtructions, which if known, would greatly derogate from the character which the Empreſs now wiſhes to bear."

NOVEMBER 5. Her Majeſty is at preſent much indiſpoſed with a cold and hoarſeneſs.

They write from Berlin, that the King of Pruſſia was taken with ſuch a ſevere fit of the gout, on the 26th of October, that his life was for ſome time deſpaired of.

The friends of freedom and independency met laſt night at the Standard Tavern in Leiceſter-Square, and came to ſeveral very patriotic reſolutions; and the following toaſts were drank:

The glorious and immortal memory of King William the Third.

May double faces have double halters.

May the treachery of the 29th of October, more firmly unite the real friends of liberty.

May the firmneſs of the Livery of London, continue to triumph over the frauds of the Court.

Mr. Alderman Bull, Mr. Alderman Lewes, and ſeveral worthy patriotic gentlemen were ballotted for and univerſally admitted members.

NOVEMBER 7. By a letter from Port Glaſgow, dated October 31, we learn, that accounts had juſt been received there from Sky, that an epidemical diſtemper had broke out in the Lewis Iſlands, which was thought to have been brought there by a veſſel from Dantzick; that the coaſts in Sky were all guarded to prevent any communication with the adjacent iſlands. The gentleman who ſent theſe accounts, deſired they might be made public, leſt there might be danger from the herring buſſes or other veſſels which had rendezvouzed there. The Captain of a veſſel from Sky acknowledges, that there was an uncommon death in the Lewis Iſlands, and that he did not chuſe to go much aſhore. The letter from Port Glaſgow adds, that care will be taken by the revenue officers not to admit any ſuſpected veſſels into their port until they get farther accounts of this melancholy affair.

The Hon. Charles Fox is negotiating with the Miniſtry. He is to be a Lord of the Treaſury, in order of ſomebody to be penſioned out. His aim is to be Chancellor of the Exchequer, in caſe of Lord Guildford's death.

If any body is penſioned out to make room for this youth, it will be the fourth penſion granted within theſe few days. The other three are Sir George Macartney 1500l. per ann. Lord Chancellor Lifford 2000l. per ann. And Chief Baron Parker a penſion for life.

At a Court of Aldermen held on Tuesday last, the following thanks were unanimously voted to the Lord Mayor of this City:

"That Court doth return thanks to the Right Hon. William Nash, Esq; Lord Mayor of this City, for the particular regard he has been pleased to shew the Members that compose this Court; for his upright and unblemished administration of public office; and for his constant endeavours, on all occasions, to promote the welfare and prosperity of this City during the whole course of his Mayoralty."

When the news of the fatal divisions among the City Patriots was brought to a meeting where Lord Bute, Lord Holland, Lord North, Lord Shelburne, and Lord Sandwich, were present, I am glad the villains have quarrelled, says Lord Sandwich; for when rogues fall out, honest men come by their own. That's true, says Lord Holland; Very true, says Lord Bute; Very true, said every one.

EDINBURGH, October 30. Yesterday arrived here from Iceland, and other places in the North Seas, where they had been on a voyage for discoveries, the ingenious Mr. Banks, Dr. Solander, and Dr. Lind.

ACRE, July 29. The Chick Daher would have acquired the highest honours if Providence had placed him among the polished nations. He has made himself independant at Acre and the neighbouring places. He subdued the Mutualis, a people of the sect of Ali, settled in the neighbourhood of Acre, over whom he reigns as over his own subjects. He is an intrepid and fortunate warrior, who hardly ever lost a battle, and who at the age of 93 years retains the courage and vigour of youth. There is one thing very singular in his life, which is, that in his present very advanced age, he marries every year a girl of 13 or 14 years of age. The Monks of the Holy Land, of the order of St. Francis, pay the expences of the wedding. They suffered the custom to be established of paying 1000 crowns to the Chick who marries every year, and this he complies with rather than lose that sum.

ROME, September 30. The small-pox has made great havock in this city this year. In the hospital of the Holy Ghost only, 1100 foundling children have died of that distemper.

WARSAW, October 14. The last dispatches which the Baron de Stackelbergh, the Russian Envoy, received from Walachia, renew the hopes we had of seeing soon an end of the present war. The armistice has been prolonged forty days beyond the prescribed time; and the negociations of peace have been resumed between the Field Marshal Count de Romanzow and the Grand Vizir. 'Tis actually known that the Congress would not have been broke up, if the pretensions of the Russian Plenipotentiaries had been more moderate. By other advices recently received, we learn, that the Court of Vienna has caused it to be declared to the Porte, that if the peace is not concluded within the space of four weeks, she must be obliged, according to her treaty with Russia, to act in concert with that power, against the Turks.

FROM THE VISTULA, October 15. The disgrace experienced by Count Orlow on his return from the congress at Fockzany, is confirmed by the last letters from Petersburgh, from which place we learn, that the Court has dispatched a courier to Jassy, to order the conferences to be renewed.

PARIS, October 23. Advices from Petersburgh say, that Count Orlow, Plenipotentiary at Fockzany, has been disgraced for having broke up the congress too precipitately.

HAMBURGH, October 23. Several Captains of ships arrived here within these few days, have confirmed the disgrace of Count Gregory Orlow, late Minister Plenipotentiary from Russia, at the congress of Fockzany, who was arrested near Petersburgh, and put under a guard of 50 men of the regiment of guards. They add, that the Court of Petersburgh had dispatched orders to take up his two brothers; and if we may credit the report of an English Captain, just arrived from Riga, Count Gregory Orlow exists no more.

HAGUE, October 27. Letters from very good hands confirm, that the negociations for peace between the belligerant powers, have been renewed.
